2018 Elections Impacting Tellico Village Residents

The local, state and federal election process is underway in Loudon and Monroe counties. The activity is highlighted by two primary dates - one in May and another in August - followed by the general election in November.

Only the offices that impact Tellico Village are listed below. Specifically, if you live in zip code 37774, you are either in Loudon County Districts 1A, 1B, or 7. Residents living in zip code 37885 are in Monroe County District 4. The elections of school board members or County Commissioners from Districts other than those listed above do not directly impact Tellico Villagers.

The Tennessee State District for House of Representative elections is the 21st District covering Monroe & Loudon counties. The 37774 zip code portion of the Village is in the 5th District for Tennessee State Senatorial races and the zip code 37885 is in the 9th District for Tennessee State Senatorial races.

Loudon county is in Federal Congressional District 2, while Monroe county is in Federal Congressional District 3.

Your Voter Registration card identifies the districts you live in.

Prior to each election (primary or general) the HOA will make available a document identifying which candidates are running for which office and the responsibilities of each office so Villagers can better understand what impacts the community. An HOA General meeting will be held prior to each election to allow all those interested to hear from the candidates.
