

The Public Library at Tellico Village presents an encore presentation:

Lewis & Clark - Great Journey West

In 1803, President Thomas Jefferson dispatched Meriwether Lewis and William Clark to explore the uncharted territory of the west. He expected they would encounter woolly mammoths, erupting volcanoes, and a northwest passage to the sea. What they found was no less mind-boggling. Historian Joseph Blanco leads this multimedia program re-creating the expedition with stories from his tour guide experiences at the Lewis & Clark National Park. Program fee of $5 due to Joseph at time of class.
